Dedicated to . . .

To a woman who has displayed her understanding and untiring energy in our behalf, we dedicate this MARTINAIRE. For many years she has been a part of Martin, first as a student, then as a teacher, and now as a hostess. In each role she has been outstanding. She has given encouragement and advice. For us, she has created an atmosphere of home at college. Because of these qualities she has made us realize more fully the beauty that is the heart of our Alma Mater.

MRS. S. H. WOODWARD

Foreword

As we students of Martin College take our places in this world, we take with us the teachings we have gleaned within these portals. Let us use this book as a reminder of the fundamental principle we have been taught—"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Campus Life

Friendship and Frolic

*Bevel Springs picnic—little sisters' pigtails—treasure hunting—costumes and pantomimes—roommates and shared secrets—witches, ghosts, gremlins, goblins, black cats, and Halloween—
Thanksgiving turkey, cranberries, pumpkins—examinations.*

Holiday Spirit

Christmas pageant—Mary and Joseph—snow-drifts and snowmen—a white fairyland—Christmas celebrations—teachers' good service—holly and mistletoe—cedar and pine—tinsel and sparkle—and plenty of glee—dear old Santa—and a huge Christmas tree!

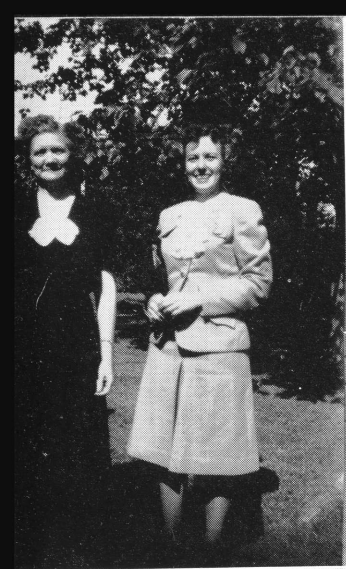

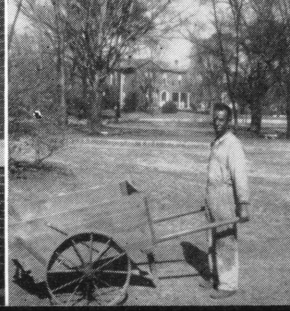

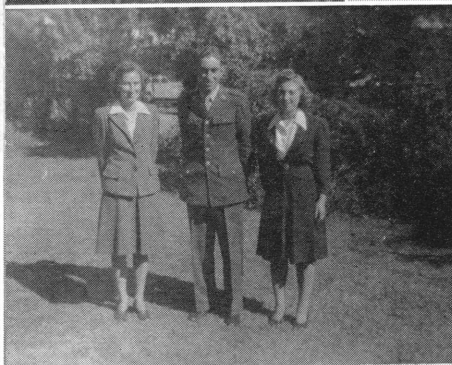

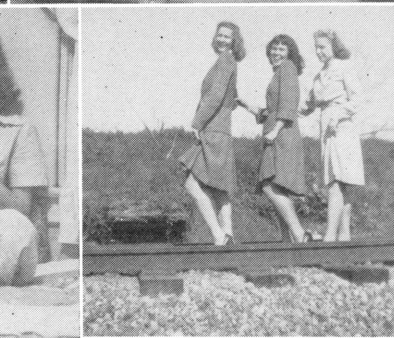

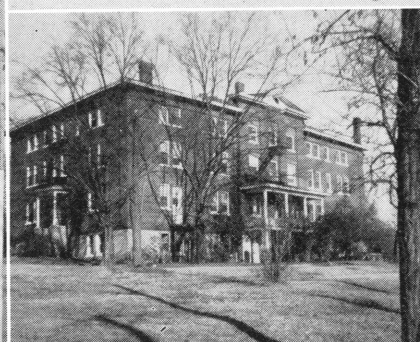

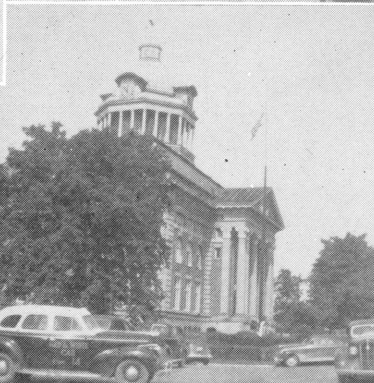

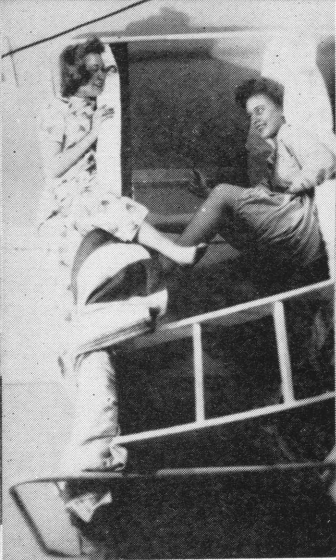

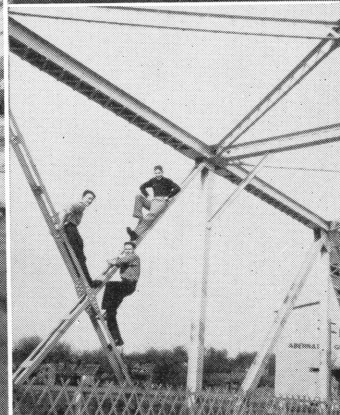

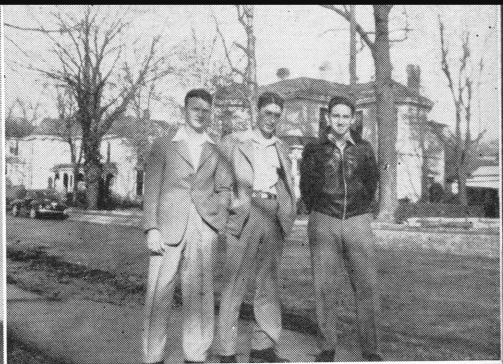

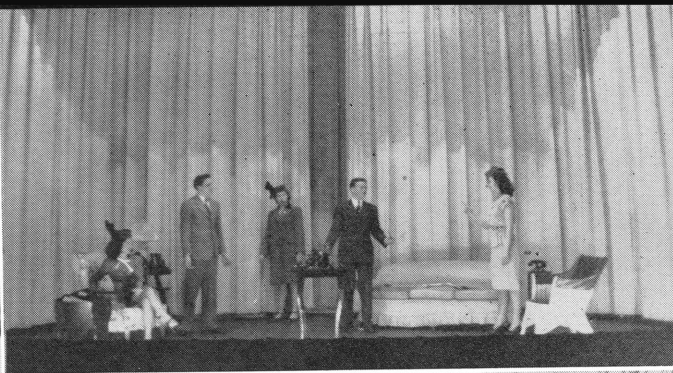

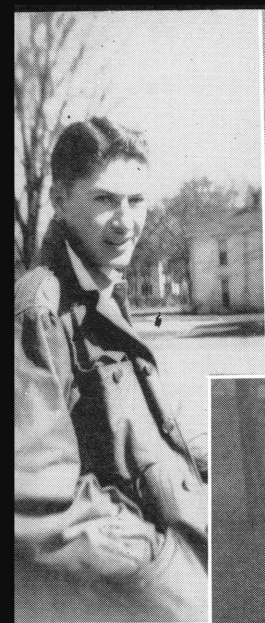

Cherished Memories

Castanets and Spanish lace—the Ostas from South America—the auction sale of faculty wares—Religious Emphasis Week with Dr. Short—forums and discussions—St. Patrick's Day and Irish shamrock—Bertila Harding and Mexico—Junior-Senior party—Nancy Jo's recital—plays—and graduation.

Mary Lucy Wilson

With stars in her eyes she walked into our lives. Although the responsibilities placed on her shoulders are many and heavy, she has handled each situation with ease and delicacy. Mary Lucy has given fragrance and freshness. Every gesture reflects refinement, poise, and grace. As a tribute to her we say, "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody."

Our Interesting

Georgia Lee Atkinson

On our campus this little red-headed moppet is one of the most delightful and refreshing individuals. The elf-like quality of her natural charm glorifies her personality. The spontaneity of her music and smile are alike in their warmth. To us she's the zip and the tang of an early autumn morning.

Vera Lergen

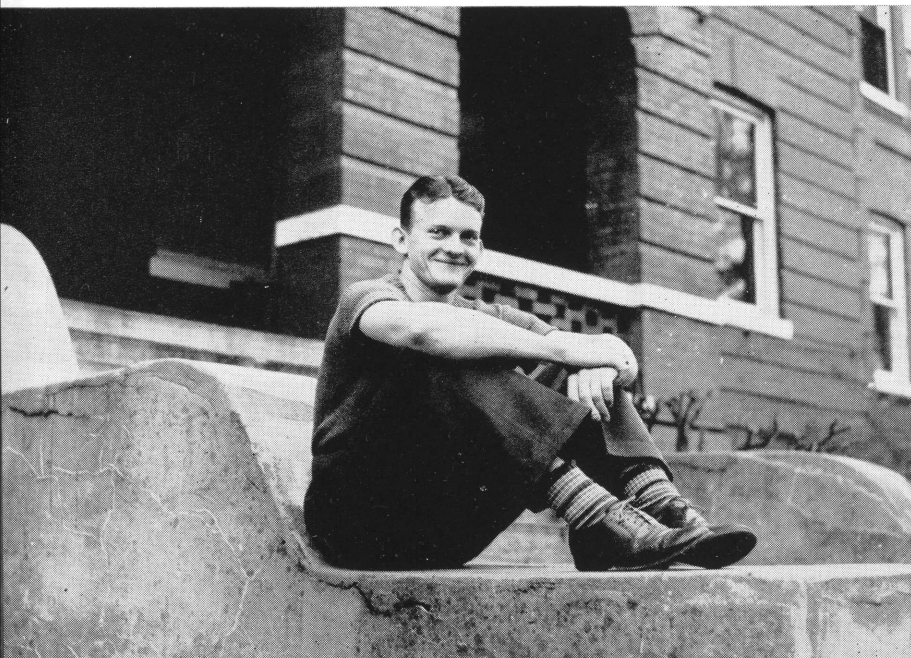

Guess we couldn't say too much for this enthusiastic personality who sticks her finger in every pie. Her zest for living is her finest trait. She shoots for goals sure and straight. As a companion she's fun, she's sincere, she's just true blue. She has run the gamut—auction bidding to picture taking—money raising to candy making.

Personalities

Elwood Denson

The keynote to activity is this dynamo in action. He's songleader and class president. His spunk and energy make a tough job seem easy. Two of his best characteristics are a marvelous disposition and an affable manner. We have thoroughly enjoyed his musical talents and remember him well as the guitar-strumming cowboy.

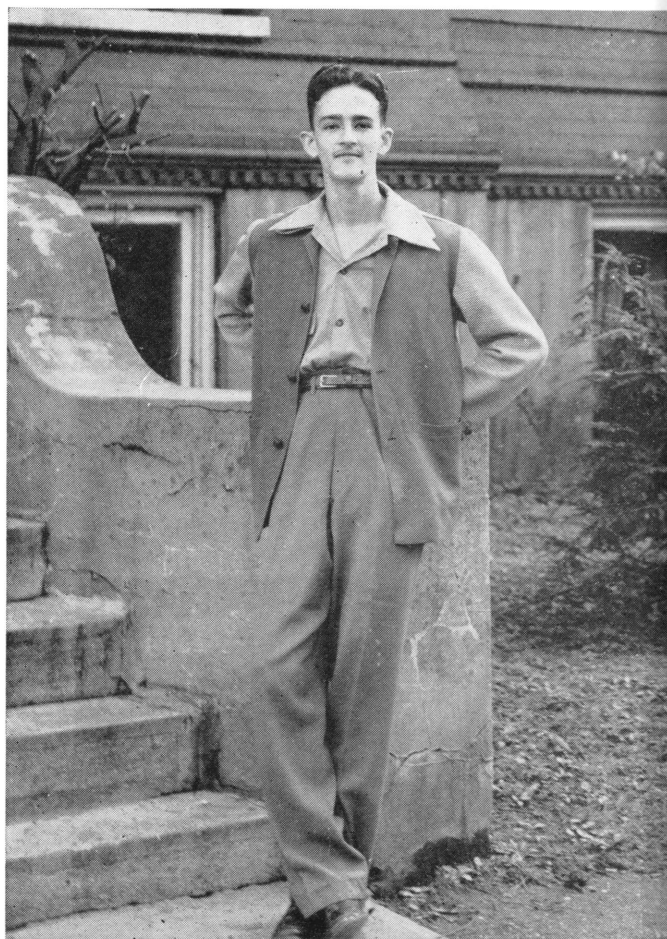

Norma Jean Sykes

Norma Jean is an individualist. Dignity and poise are two characteristics which are paramount in her make-up. She is equally convincing as Tessie, the snaggle-toothed maid, and as Juliet, the Shakespearean heroine. Her histrionic ability is not confined to the stage. This quality is carried into her daily life where everyday happenings become dramatic events. She is both versatile and interesting.

Our Interesting

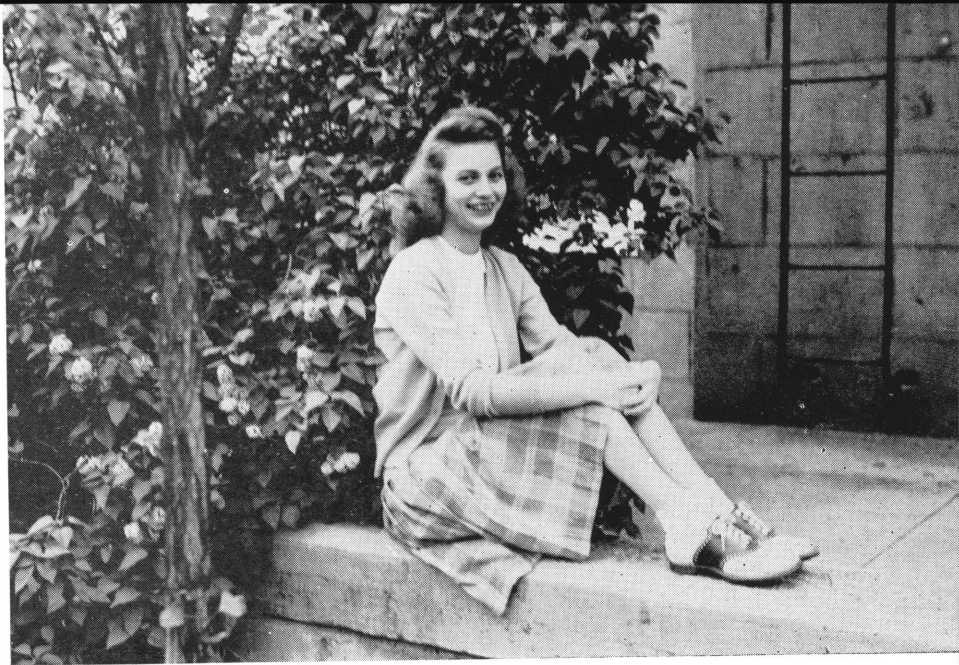

Wesley Soto

The senior class president has a distinction no other can claim. Wesley hails from the tropical island of Cuba. He punches our time clock by ringing the class bells. As a tennis enthusiast he plays a fast game, and as a member of the chorus he furnishes the good "foundation." This summer he plans to visit his romantic homeland, then to return to the States for continuation of his study of liberal arts.

Sue Benson

So versatile, so loyal,
So popular with all
Is Sue, whose charming ways
Are famed throughout the "Hall."
She's the editor of the yearbook—
Miss Home Economics, too.
Excelling in every field,
She's our own "Sweet Sue."

Personalities

Gerry Culps

The happy-go-lucky companion to all is the most unpredictable personality, Gerry. Her repartee is quick and witty. She has a contagious spirit which adds gaiety to every occasion. As a member of the Council, Gerry could always be depended on for fair representation. She was so generous with her tricky spring hat that we all got a kick out of wearing it.
